

Puzzle Activities

This simple adaptation of a jig-saw puzzle guides children to enjoy the challenge of putting together pieces to create a picture related to the story.

Materials:

- Any picture that relates to the Bible Story you are teaching. Draw your own or download from a website (such as the ones listed at the end of this article).
- Scissors

Preparation:

1. Cut the picture into pieces like a puzzle. Try different shapes and find out what works best for your group.
2. For younger children, make fewer pieces and simple shapes.
3. For older children, create more complicated pieces.
4. Consider the number of children and their ages. If the group is large or made up of various age groups, it might be helpful to make more than one puzzle and have the children work in smaller groups.

Instructions:

1. Spread the pieces out on a flat surface and let the children put the puzzle together.

2. As they work, talk about what the picture might be and what is happening. Let this be a way to introduce the story that you're sharing that day.

Adaptations:

- Visual Aid: Before class, outline your story and cut the picture into pieces, one for each point in your outline. If you wish, you can write words on the backs of the pieces to help you remember what to say. Place the first piece in front of the children as you cover the first point. Then add the next piece as you cover the next point. Continue until you have completed the story and the puzzle. (Hint: Save the most important parts of the picture for your last points so the children won't guess what it is too soon.)
- Hide and Seek: Before class hide the pieces around the room and let the children find them and put them together.
- Make it a Review Game: After finishing telling the story use a puzzle for review. Children can answer questions about the story to "earn" a puzzle piece. After the child adds the puzzle piece to the picture, they can guess what it is.
- Children Make Their Own Puzzles: Guide the children in drawing their own picture from the Bible story. Then they can cut the pictures into pieces and trade them with the person next to them.
- Use Words Instead of Pictures: Instead of a picture, write the memory verse or important words from the story on a paper and then cut it into pieces.
