

Parable of the Mustard Seed

Scripture Reference: Mark 4:30-32

Suggested Emphasis: If we each do our small part in telling others about God then His church will continue to grow.

Story Overview:

Jesus said that the kingdom of God is like a little mustard seed. When this little seed is planted it grows into a huge plant, many times the size of the little seed.

Background Study:

This parable is a great one for children. Often children feel very insignificant in the church. Sometimes they get the “children are to be seen and not heard” attitude or they are just ignored. Children can be good and try their best but adults at church might only notice them when they are “noisy” or “running around.” They are literally small - like the mustard seed. They need to see how they fit into God’s family. They need to know that they can play a part in helping the kingdom grow.

As a Bible Class Teacher, be an ambassador for the children of your congregation. Gently remind people that they were little seeds once, themselves. Remind them to be patient with the children. Encourage them to guide and nurture them and not just judge them. Also find ways to get the old and young together. Host an afternoon tea where the children in your class have done some baking for the elderly. Arrange to have your class visit someone in their home to read Scriptures and sing songs to them. You will be amazed at the bridges you build.

The parable in today’s lesson can also be found in Matthew 13:31-32 and Luke 13:18-19.

A familiar sight in Palestine was a six to twelve foot mustard bush filled with a flock of birds. The birds enjoyed feasting on the tiny black seeds. Mustard seeds were cultivated for their oil during biblical times and were ground into powder for both culinary and medicinal purposes.

The significant lesson that Jesus draws from the mustard plant is the fact that a huge, significant plant can come from a small, insignificant beginning like a little seed. This is parallel to the kingdom of God. Think of all of the insignificant events that hold such huge meanings: a little out-of-the-way town of Bethlehem, an animal’s manger, an obscure carpenter and his young wife, a bunch of uneducated fishermen, a few loaves and a couple of fish, a rooster crowing, a tree that’s wood would someday be a cross, a tomb with a stone rolled away.

Sometimes it seems that the little part we play in the kingdom is insignificant. Perhaps we feel that our congregation is so small that it cannot accomplish much in the grand scheme of things. The parable of the mustard seed is a lesson to us that huge things can happen as the result of a very small thing. There were only a very few believers in the beginning but the number of people who followed Jesus grew and grew. That is only because those first few told a few. Then they told a few. Then those told some more ...

Way to Introduce the Story:

You can do this introduction before class or you might want to make it part of your story time (below). Collect a few different types of seeds and seed packets and bring them to class. Compare the different types of seeds. Discuss the type of plant that will grow from each seed. Continue to point out that huge plants will grow from these very small seeds. You could also cut some fruit and look at the seeds inside (then eat the fruit, of course). Strawberries are a good example because the seeds are on the outside and they are very small compared to the fruit. Other interesting choices are bananas, cucumbers, passion fruit and more. You might also be able to show acorns that grow into huge trees. If there is a tree near the building where your class is, go and find some seeds. "Jesus once told a parable about a very small type of seed. Let's listen to the story . . ."

The Story:

(Bring some seeds to use in this story. Make sure you have a mustard seed. You can usually buy these in the spice section of the grocery.)

Sometimes people think that they are not important to God. They want to do things to help the church but they think that the things they do are not important.

Sometimes they just give up because they feel sad.

Some people think they are too old to help the church. "I'm just one old woman," they might say. "There's nothing I can do to help except sew clothes for poor people."

Kids sometimes think they are too young to help the church. "I'm just a little kid. No one expects me to help the church. I can only do little things like come to Sunday School."

Some people think that the things they do are not important so they stop helping the church. "I can only do little things like vacuuming the floor or straightening the song books," they say. "No one will notice if I don't do those little things. Those little things don't help the church anyway."

Sometimes people are sad because they think that their church is too little. They say, "no one will want to come to my church, it is too small."

Some of the people who followed Jesus thought those things too. Jesus wanted to teach the people something new. He wanted them to know that everything we do to help others is important. The big things are important and the little things are important. Sometimes we do a little thing and it ends up making a BIG difference.

Jesus wanted the people to understand this important lesson so he told them a parable about a seed. Does anyone know what a seed is? (Let the children answer.) A seed is a beginning. A seed is often very small and it looks like it could never be anything important. (Show some seeds.) Seeds look like they are small and not important but seeds are only the beginning of something. A very small seed can grow into something very big. (Tell or show what plants come from the seeds you brought).

The parable Jesus told was about a mustard seed. (Show one if you have it.) He said that once a man planted a very tiny mustard seed in his garden. It was a very little seed but it was only the beginning. As time passed the seed grew into a little plant.

It grew more and more every day. As the years went by the plant became a big tree. Birds would come and sit on the tree's branches.

Jesus said that the kingdom of God is like a mustard seed. Things might look very small at the beginning but just wait - someday they can be very, very, very big! Just keep doing the little things and God will make them grow.

So, are the things older people do too small? No, remember the mustard seed!

Are kids too little to help the church? No, remember the mustard seed!

Should we stop doing little jobs like vacuuming and straightening song books? No, remember the mustard seed!

Should we give up because our church is too small? No, remember the mustard seed!

How can you remember the story of the mustard seed? What can you do to help?

Ways to Tell the Story:

This story can be told using a variety of methods. Always remain true to the facts found in the Bible but help children connect to its meaning by using drama, visual aids, voice inflection, student interaction and/or emotion.

Review Questions:

1. What type of seed does Jesus refer to as the smallest seed planted in a garden?
Mustard seed.
2. What is amazing about a very small mustard seed? When it is planted it grows into the largest plant in the garden.
3. Why is it important to help people and help the church even if we can only do “little” things? Little things are only the beginnings for big things.

Learning Activities and Crafts:

\(How to choose the best learning activities for my teaching situation\)

Activities:

- Make some sandwiches using mustard as one of the ingredients.
- Play “hangman” using words from the story (mustard, tree, Mark, plant, grow, etc.)
- List ways we can tell people about the church (invite them to class etc)
- Have a guest come to class and talk about how children have helped them. Many people start going to church to be a better parent to their child.
- Let the children tell the class what they want to be when they “grow up”. Help the class to think of ways that a person of that profession can serve God and be of service to the church. Encourage the children to decide now to serve God no matter what profession they choose in life.

- To help pre-schoolers understand the concept of something little becoming big show a series of circles of ever-increasing sizes. These can be drawn on a paper or cut from coloured paper. If desired, you can also print this template onto coloured paper.
- Find a project that the children can do to help the church. They might make gifts for shut-ins or someone who is sick. They could collect food for the food pantry or clothing for someone in need. They might could letterbox evangelistic material or make a bulletin board encouraging people to attend church or some event.
- Make a prayer list and lead the children in prayer. This is one way that anyone, at any age, can help the church.

Crafts:

- Make a fridge magnet by gluing a small magnet strip to the back of cardboard. You can buy magnet strips at craft shops. Decorate the card with the words “Big things come from little things like mustard seeds” and glue a mustard seed to it.
